

Where Are You Now
Mumford & Sons

Capo: 9th fret for studio recording

[Intro]

F

During this G there are some Hammer-ons that go a bit like this. (Not all of them are exactly like this, but it sounds pretty close.)

```
E|-----|
B|-----|
G|-----|
D|---0h2---o-|
A|0h2---0h2--|
E|-----|
```

[Verse]

```
      Bb           F           Dm           F
It came to the end it seems you had heard.
           Bb                   F
As we walked the city streets,
           Dm           F
You never said a word.
           Bb           F
When we finally sat down
           Dm           F
Your eyes were full of spite.
           Bb           F
I was desperate, I was weak
           Dm           F
I could not put up a fight.
```

[Chorus]

```
Bb           F
Where are you now?
Dm           F
Where are you now?
           Bb           F
Do you ever think of me
           Dm           F
In the quiet, in the crowd?
```

*(This chord progression continues through the entire song)

[Verse]

```
           Bb           F
You were strangely less than pain
Dm           F
```

Than you were cold.

Bb F
Triumphant in your mind
Dm F
Of the logic that you hold.
Bb F
You said no one would ever know
Dm F
The love that we had shared.
Bb F
As I took my leave to go
Dm F
It was clear that you didn't care.

[Chorus] x2

Bb F
Where are you now?
Dm F
Where are you now?
Bb F
Do you ever think of me
Dm F
In the quiet, in the crowd?

[Verse 3]

Bb F Dm F
And I hear of your coming and your going in the town.
Bb F
I hear stories of your smile,
Dm F
I hear stories of your frown.
Bb F
And the darkness can descend,
Dm F
We can relish all the pain.
Bb F
But I know that's what you love,
Dm F
Cause you know I love the same.

[Chorus] x4

Bb F
Where are you now?
Dm F
Where are you now?
Bb F
Do you ever think of me
Dm F
In the quiet, in the crowd?
