Murder by Death

Rumbrave - Murder By Death

Dm

I had jade colored eyes
That shimmered in the sun
If you stared at them too long
You d catch a glimpse of what I d done
The faces of the damned
And all the butchered lambs
If I had to do it over
I just would ve done it slower

Bb

Gm

When we meet you will see

Dm

I will destroy everything of beauty

Bb

Gm

When we meet then you ll know

Dm

I ll be the axe that clears the forest

Dm

When I had my fill and tasted every kill
There was nothin left to do

Bb Gm

But bow out of this world
I heard tell of a place
Where the dead walk tall and proud
Where men like me were needed

Bb Gm

To thin the growing crowd

Gm

Dm

Deep below the dunes I roved

Gm

Dm

Past the rows past the rows

Gm

Dm

Beside the acacias freshly in bloom

Bb

Gm

Dm

I send men to their doom

this part is played using these two chords

e|1 1

b|3 3

G|2 3

D|0 0

Dm Bb/D

I spent those days runnin hard and fast
With no place to lay my head
The sound of the rain against the roof
Was loud enough to wake the dead
And my legs were tired and my feet were cold
But all I could do was get back on the road

Dm

So I came upon a shanty town
Full of bitter men
Where carved into a crude wood sign
It read welcome to the end
For a dollar you could buy a girl
Of every possible design
But you couldn t find one decent man
Or a word spoken kind

Bb

Whiskey was for supper

Gm

A man couldn t ask for better!

Bb

Gm

When we meet you will see

Dm

I will destroy everything of beauty

Bb

Gm

When we meet then you ll know

Dm

I ll be the axe that clears the forest

I spent those days huntin hard and fast
And the sound of the rain against the roof
Was loud enough to wake the dead
And my legs were tired and my feet were cold
