El Ultimo Tremolo (or...Una Limosnita por el Amor de Dios).

~~~~~

by Agustin Barrios Mangore (1885-1944)

About the Origin of the piece:

Agustin Barrios Mangore lived the last few years of his life in the city of San Salvador, El Salvador, surrounded by friends and pupils. One evening whilst teaching, an old lady knocked on the door to beg for an alm (limosna). Her exact pleading words were: 'UNA LIMOSNITA POR EL AMOR DE DIOS'. After the class, the knocks on the door inspired the tremolo masterpiece. The knocks are apparant in the first two bars of the piece and they resound throughout the entire work beneath the beautiful yet desparate melody. This was to be Agustin's last composition for he died a month later.

BTW, I did NOT make this up... honest.

This is my fourth transcription and has to be my most ambitious yet. It is a tremolo piece. Tremolo means 'Trembling, rapid repetition of note'. It is a difficult technique to master at first so perseverance is the key. Each beat is divided into four notes, the thumb playing the base note followed by a m i (ring, middle & index), repeating the top note. To save space and time, I have used the following notation (t=tremolo).

|    |                            |                     |

I have included left hand fingering beneath the tab. 1 is for the index finger, 2 is middle and so on. It should be self explanatory. I have split the fingering into two levels, the tremolo level and the bass note level. A 't' precedes the tremolo fingering.

So here it is, the masterpiece itself. Please email me if you find any mistakes. The time is 3/4. It is in the key of E minor although it changes halfway into the key of E major. ENJOY!!!
