Unsaid
Mxpx

Intro: A D A D A D E D X2

Verso:
```
A                                 C#
Somewhere deep inside your mind, you don t want anyone to find
     B              D        A D A D
That you re someone with very big ideas
A                                   C#
The words that just came off your lips, just crossed your name off the list
     B            D          A  D A D
It s long gone and already forgotten
```

[coro]:
```
C#            D            E
I was thinking just the other day
A                      C#
Some things are better left undone
                       B                          D
Some battles better left unwon, some sad songs better left unsung
```

repete a intro: A D A D A D E D

Verso:
```
A                                   C#
Is there something more to know and is there someplace left to go?
B              D            A D A D
Someplace with something there to see,
A                     C#
Is there anyone at all, not one to make that final call
   B          D          A D A D
To all those people wondering?
```

[coro]:
```
C#            D            E
I was thinking just the other day
A                       C#                          B
Some things are better left undone, some battles better left unwon,
                        D          A
Some sad songs better left unsung, some fires are better left unfed,
     C#                        B                        Dm
Some pages better left unread, some words are better left unsaid
```

Bridge:
```
              A                 F#
What kind of person would you be?
   B              E                    A      A7
If less is what you see, then less is everything
```

```
         D                    B            E                  A
And if you look what will you find, would that make up your mind?
   G#  F#                            C#  B          D    E  A
And make up everything, make up everything   uh-oh-oh-oh-oh

pequeno interlude:
G   6b  6b  6b  4  6  2  6b  6b  6b  6  7  9

Chorus:
A                                C#                              B
Some things are better left undone, some battles better left unwon,
                                  D       A
Some sad songs better left unsung, some fires are better left unfed,
      C#                                                    D
Some pages better left unread, some words are better left unsaid

Repete o pequeno interlude e vai pra B, C#, D, E, A.
```