

Drowning Lessons
My Chemical Romance

INTRO: (A G# E) 7x

(A G# E)

Without a sound

I took her down

and dressed in red and blue I squeezed

Imaginary wedding gown

That you can't wear in front of me

A kiss goodbye, your twisted shell

As rice grains and roses fall at your feet

Lets say goodbye, the hundreth time

And then tomorrow we'll do it again

(A G# E) 3x

A G# E

Tomorrow we'll do it again

(A G# E) 4x

(A G# E)

I dragged her down I put her out

And back there I left her where no one could see

And lifeless cold into this well

I stared as this moment was held for me

A kiss goodbye, your twisted shell

As rice grains and roses fall at your feet

Lets say goodbye, the hundreth time

And then tomorrow we'll do it again

(A G# E)

I never thought it'd be this way

Just me and you, we're here alone

And if you stay, all I'm asking for is

A thousand bodies piled up

I never thought would be enough

To show you just what I've been thinking

(A G#) 3x

A G# E

And I'll keep on making more

A G# F# E

A G# F# E

Just to prove that I adore

A G# E

Every inch of sanity

A G# E

A G# E

All I m asking for is, all I m asking for is

A G# E

These hands stained red

(A G# E)

From the times that I ve killed you and then

We can wash down this engagement ring

With poison and kerosene

We ll laugh as we die

And we ll celebrate the end of things

With cheap champagne

(A G# E) 7x

(A G# E)

Without, without a sound 4x

And I wish you away
