Good day my angel I ll great you with black and white What do you want more the days to short and the night belongs to us In my eyes you can see fear of your future
In my soul there s no shelter under your wings shadow

R: Good day my angel I can hear you knocking at my gates

Do you bring today happines or the ray may run to words the lie Spread your wings so that I would feel a piece of heaven Spread your wings so that I would feel no pain when I die
