An Ornament
Negative

For the verse, or any part of the song that follows the same chord progession, the riff is played. (The last three notes, the B chord, are skipped the first time through and riff is repeated. The second time through, the last three notes are played. If you
the chords I ve written out with the verse, you will know when to play the B-chord part of riff and when to skip it.)

Also the E chord in the verse is really an E(b5), but a normal E sounds fine and is an chord to play.

```
       F#                  C#/F            E            B
e|-------------------------------------------------------|
B|-------------------------------------------------------|
G|-------------------------------------------------------|
D|------------------------------------------------1-4--|
A|---4-----1---------4-----1--------4-----1------2------|
E|-2---2-4---------1---1-4--------0---0-4--------------|

F#                      C#/F
Don t say I m sorry again
                          E
Doesn t give you the right
            F#
To be someone else
                         C#/F
I d be pleased to love and share
              E
But inside I m locked
          B
I can t even cry
```

```
B        F#
Love only matters
E                     Ebm
When it comes to the end
B        F#
Love only matters
            C#
Makes you rise again
```

```
              Ebm
I m just an ornament
                    Abm
An ornament to your face
                      B
Not enough but it feels right
          F#
You keep me alive
              C#
When you hold me tight

F#                        C#/F
All things are burning fast
                      E
Would you stand by me
                        F#
When things are getting bad
                        C#/F
And the colours here will fade
                  E
Would you help me see
                  B
Real shades of grey

B           F#
Love only matters
E                       Ebm
When it comes to the end
B           F#
Love only matters
                C#
Makes me rise again

              Ebm
I m just an ornament
                    Abm
An ornament to your face
                      B
Not enough but it feels right
          F#
You keep me alive
              C#
When you hold me tight

              Ebm
I m just an ornament
                      Abm
An ornament in your garden
                      B
Not enough but it feels right
          F#
```

You keep me alive
            C#
When you bring the rain, rain, rain

SOLO:
B       Ebm       B       C#        F#          F#

         F#          C#/F
Read between the lines
         E                 B
This is fragile only for you and I
       F#                 B
All I want is that you love me
      F#
As I am

(Opening riff plays again as the first verse is sung again.)

I think that s about it. Listening to the song will help you work out when to play what.
it helps! :)
