There is a town in north Ontario,
D                A                G
with dream comfort memory to spare.
D                A                G
And in my mind I still need a place to go,
D                A                G
all my changes are there.

D                A                G
Blue, blue windows behind the stars,
D                A                G
yellow moon on the rise.
D                A                G
Big birds flying across the sky,
D                A                G
throwing shadows on our eyes.

D                A                G
Leave us, helpless, helpless, helpless.
D                A                G
Baby can you hear me now?
D                A                G
The chains are locked and tied across the door.
D                A                G
Baby sing with me somehow.

D                A                G
Blue, blue windows behind the stars,
D                A                G
yellow moon on the rise.
D                A                G
Big birds flying across the sky,
