D            A            G
There is a town in north Ontario,
D            A            G
with dream comfort memory to spare.
D            A            G
And in my mind I still need a place to go,
D            A            G
all my changes are there.

D            A            G
Blue, blue windows behind the stars,
D            A            G
yellow moon on the rise.
D            A            G
Big birds flying across the sky,
D            A            G
throwing shadows on our eyes.

              D            A            G
Leave us, helpless, helpless, helpless.
D            A            G
Baby can you hear me now?
D            A            G
The chains are locked and tied across the door.
D            A            G
Baby sing with me somehow.

D            A            G
Blue, blue windows behind the stars,
D            A            G
yellow moon on the rise.
D            A            G
Big birds flying across the sky,
