verse 1

Dm E Dm E
Well, we know what makes the flowers grow, but we don't know why
Dm E Dm E
And we all have the knowledge of DNA, but we still die
G F E
We perch so thin and fragile here upon the land
G F E
And the earth that moves beneath us, we don't understand

verse 2

Dm E Dm E
So we rush towards the Judgement Day, when she reclaims
Dm E Dm E
A toast to the Luddite martyrs then, who died in vain
G F E
Down at the lab they're working still, finishing off
G F
How do we tell the people in the white coats
E
Enough is enough?

F F Am Em G F
Hey, hey, I listen to you pray as if some help will come
F F Am Em G F
Hey, hey, She will dance on our graves when we are dead and gone
Am G F
we are dead and gone

Dm E Dm E

You and I we made no suicide pact, we didn't want to die
 Dm E Dm E
 But we watch the wall, little darling, while the chemical trucks go by
 G F E
 This desperate imitation, now, of innocence
 G F E
 Those last few days at Jonestown ain't got nothing on this

F F Am Em G F
 Hey, hey, I listen to you pray as if some help will come
 F F Am Em G F

verse 4

E F Am
 Now beneath the fitted carpets, beyond the padded cells
 E F Am
 Within these crimes of passion, the naked truth she dwells
 C F G C
 And this fury's just a part and this thunder's just a part
 C F G G
 Desire is just a part, the cracking ice, the splitting rock

F F Am Em G F
 Hey, hey, I listen to you pray as if some help will come
 F F Am Em G F
 Hey, hey, She will dance on our graves when we are dead and gone

 Hey, hey, to the suicide day, the blind man blunders on

 we are dead and gone

Outro

Dm E Dm E

As children learn about the world, we built that wall of sand

Dm E Dm E

Along the beach we laboured hard with our bare hands

G F E

We worked until the sun went down beneath the waves

G F E

And the tide came rolling splashing in, washed the wall away

G F

How do we tell the people in the white coats

E

Enough is enough ?

G F

How do we tell the people in the white coats

E E E

Enough is enough is enough?
