Beautiful song. Couldn't find it, so here it is.

E
You've practiced and rehearsed it
E+ F#m F#m/F F#m/E
But in your heart you know it's too late.
B B/F#
Experience should tell you
B B/F# A E
Never get your story too straight.
A
You'd better steel yourself
Am
And prepare for
E F#
Some blues to descend
F#m B
Cause you've broken something this time
E F#m B
Stoplight roses can't mend.

E
You've dusted off your shame face
E+ F#m F#m/F F#m/E
In the mirror behind the bathroom door.
B B/F#
That little-boy-lost look
B B/F# A E
That used to work so well Doesn't anymore.
A Am
If you believe your same-old used-to-be
E F#
Will see you through
F#m B E
You'll last about as long as stoplight roses do.

F#m
Stoplight roses
B7 E E7
In their sad array.
A
Love's promise in cellophane lace

B7 E E7

Or dead giveaway?

A Am

You ll need time to devise

E F#

A stylish plan

F#m

And you ll do it driving over to

B E E7

The stoplight roses man.

A Am

And if you believe your same-old used-to-be

E F#

Will see you through

F#m B E

You ll last about as long as stoplight roses do.
