

Peroxide

Nina Nesbitt

G

You re like a junk email in my inbox Keep coming back, you keep coming back.

C

You re like a constant ringing in my ears You keep calling back, why are you calling back.

G

You re like a train that s running out of steam.

G

You re losing track, should ve stopped way back.

C

You re with a new girl now, she s only 16 hanging from a string, I hear her heart smash.

Am

C

So tell your girlfriend you used to be my boyfriend.

G

D

Used to be my boyfriend, how would she like that.

Am

C

She doesn t know about all the things you ve done then.

G

D

Am

D

All the things you ve said just to try and get me back But you had your chance.

G

C

Em

D

Peroxide on your heart It s burning, it s falling apart.

G

C

Em

D

Peroxide on my heart It s turning light from the dark.

G

C

Em

D

Peroxide in your eyes It s burning, burning your heart.

G

G

Peroxide, you ask why You ask why it all fell apart.

G

She s one beautiful rose in a thorn field She doesn t know that you re among those.

C

She can only give so much until you take, take yourself back and leave the pain.

Am

C

So tell your girlfriend you used to be my boyfriend.
