

Tough Luck
Nina Nesbitt

Bm                    A            G
She puts her pen to paper.
Bm                    A                    G
Lines across their hearts.
Bm                    A                    G
You did it all to raise her.
You left her standing in the dark.

Bm                                A                    G
This time she s praying for silence.
Bm                                A                                G
Hoping that you would understand.
Bm                                A                                G
She s just building these roadworks.
Bm                                A                                G
So it s clearer when they ll end.

G        A                    Bm
You can t still own what you let go.
                  G                    A        Em
What don t you understand?

Bm                                G                                D                    A
Tough luck I said I d be here in a month but you waited too.
                  Bm    G                                D                    A
Only coming back round because you heard I was with someone new.
                  Bm                                G                                D                    A
And I was waiting here till you came back My heart was bleeding black.
                  G                    A                                Bm                                G                    A        Bm
It s tough love that I m giving you, yeah it s tough luck on you.

Bm                                A                                G
He asked a question, she answers.
Bm                                A                                G
He made a crossword spelling guilt.
Bm                                A                                G
Empty boxes filled with chances.
Bm    A                                G
But you just can t leave the rose to wilt.

G        A                    Bm
You can t still own what you let go.
