

Suddenly A Brown Eyed Girl
Nine Days

Strum pattern(how i do it): D-.-.-U-d-U-D-U

(points = let it ring small letter= full palmmute stroke; so first stroke is like 3 beats long and every other stroke one beat so if you think of 4/4 first one would be a dotted half note and the other quarter notes)

Nine Lives play the chords from the first verse like this: E and B in the 7th Fret and A in the 5th (barrÃ©-chords) then change to normal chords in the half when the C#m comes in but you might play everything in normal chords sounds good too

E B A A
E B A A

E She s everything and more a girl could be
B She could have been the last on earth to me
A Everything I knew I left behind
E Just for a chance at simple life
B Laying on a hardwood floor
C#m With a photograph from an antique store with you
B Dust old records off from a milk crate shelf
C#m Let the needle drop, oh
A E (E goes on into chorus)

Chorus:

B I believe in a brown eyed girl
A That could change the world and me
B Don t it make it seem like suddenly
A E Everything is so surreal
A Like the color in her eyes
E
B

Takes me far away

A A

She came suddenly and so on =)

She ll never lets me fall too far behind
I won t walk ahead of her I won t
Two notes of a chord side by side
Two steps down a path between the vine
I feel the magic of a girl who who will bring the best of me out through
I think I d rather be close to you, to you

I believe in a brown eyed girl
That could change the world and me
Don t it make it seem like suddenly
Everything is simple like a motorcycle ride
Faster than the rain, she came suddenly

I feel, you fell
All that stood still through each melody
I thank you for you

I feel the magic of a girl who, will bring the best of me out through
I think I d rather be close to you, oh

I believe in a brown eyed girl
That could change the world and me
Don t it make it seem like suddenly
Everything is so surreal
Life the color in her eyes
Takes me far away
Where I want to stay
La da da da da
She came suddenly
La da da da da
She came suddenly
La da da da da