Verse 1

Am G C
I was a wandering bird,
Am G F C
I called away for it to save my soul.
Am G C
You were a wandering bird,
F G Am F
and nothing was wrong with killing our time and not killing ourselves.

Verse 2

Am G C
Take me away to the west side of town,
Am G C F
where we laid out our dresses and covered them down
Am G F C
there was sky full of blue, and sky full of grey
F G Am F
I was wondering how it could stay that way, I just walked away.

Pre-Chorus

F C
Now is the time when the colors align and you lay in your bed dripping
G Am
naked with sweat
F G Am F
C
and I call around for answers to come but its so fking hard when you
F C donâ€™t know your done
F C G Am
its almost over but nothing is wrong

Chorus

Am C G C F
C
You were an avalanche, I was a city perched desperately close to the G mountain.

C
 You called out for water, and I gave you wine like a b*tch that I was
C
 and I called you mine.

Am
G
F
 Its so hard to know when its over when its not begun.

Am
 Your body is calling me,
C
F
G
 I cant get right when Iâ€™m wrong,
C
 but you are so beautiful.

C
 You are so beautiful,
F
Am
 babe your so beautiful.
