Our Love Is Senile
Of Montreal

The chords are played on the bottom three strings, all sexy funky style, but I tried my best to tab them out for acoustic playing. Some are a little questionable, let me know what you think. Also, the internet s lyrics transcriptions are pretty terrible. I m pretty confident in these. Counting is written in on some syncopated parts, but verse chords are each a measure long, just listen to the song for how the lyrics fit over them.
Intro: Bb Dm C Bb, x 4

Bb   Dm   C   Bb
So now she s turning a corner, wants to leave me again
Bb   Dm   C   Bb
Though it s sad I really should warn her, you can only break up so many times
Gm   Dm   Gm   Dm
Before losing us to absurdity, without becoming forced to call she said:
Ebm   Bbm   Eb   Bbm
How can we continue? If you re telling the truth, then I still don t believe you [Instrumental]
Fm   Eb Gm C#   Bb F# , x 2, Fm(4 counts)

Bb   Dm   C   Bb
So now she s getting tired, wondering if it s a peak or precipice
Bb   Dm   C   Bb
And just how to labor forward, when her man is a mess, and never there
Gm   Dm   Gm   Dm
Though it s sad being apart, but it s much worse together in silence, because Ebm   Bbm
more than just civility, we need Ebm   Bbm
laughter, happiness, madness, anything [Instrumental]
Fm   Eb Gm C#   Bb F# , x 2

Our love is senile, like a blind child bumping into walls
Say it s not guilt keeping us together, how can we support each other s wills
Our love is senile, like we don t recognize each other Somehow we ve relapsed to being strangers
We re scuttling reptiles in our sacred realm

Gm                   Dm                   Gm                   Dm
Now it s time to play the socialist, and protect our little chick from our problems and confusion, this evasiveness is no solution

Instrumental x 4
