

Lough Erne's Shore
Old Blind Dogs

[Verse]

One morning as I went a-fowling
Bright Phoebus adorning the plain
It was down by the shores of Lough Erne
I met with a beautiful dame

[Verse]

Her voice was so sweet and so pleasing
These beautiful notes she did sing
The innocent fowl of the forest
Their loving to her they did bring

[Verse]

It being the first time I met her
My heart it did leap with surprise
I thought that she could be no mortal
But an angel that fell from the skies

[Verse]

Her hair it hung down in gold tresses
Her skin was as white as the snow
Her cheeks were as red as the roses
That will bloom along Lough Erne's shore

[Verse]

When I heard that my love was eloping
These words unto her I did say
Oh, take me to your habitation

F G Dm
For cupid has led me astray

[Verse]

G
All my life I will keep the commandments
F G Am
They say that it is the best plan
Dm G
Young maidens who yield to men s pleasures
F G Dm
The scriptures do say they are wrong

[Verse]

Dm G
Mary don t accuse me of weakness
F G Am
All treachery I do disown
Dm G
I will make you a lady of honour
F G Dm
If with me this night you ll come home

[Verse]

Dm G
Had I all the wealth of Aladdin
F G Am
His gold and his jewels and what s more
Dm G
I would part with them all for to win you
F G Dm
And live along Lough Erne s shore
F G Dm
And live along Lough Erne s shore
F G Dm
And live along Lough Erne s shore
