On my sleeve
Verso 2:
                                     F#m
It s been driving me mad
Consistent tones and constant drones
                                                           D
Keep pulling me back inside my head
                                  F#m
Nothing matters at all
The world will keep on spinning around
```
