Where do I begin?
                       D
Should I tell you
         E   F#m
How bad I need you now
                            B
You re underneath my skin
                 D
But I m confused
                    E
My head is spinning all around
F#m   B
I waited so long
                   D
I need to know, darling
        E
What is on your mind

A   E
Normally I try to run
                            Bm
And I might even want to hide
                             D
Cause I never knew what I wanted
                            A
Til I looked into your eyes
                            E
So am I in this alone?
                      Bm
What I m looking for is a sign
                         D
That you feel how I feel for you
                        A
Baby please don t let me go
                         E
Baby please don t let me go
                         Bm
Baby please don t let me go
                      D
No, please don t let me go

Baby no, no, no, no
