?So Impossible?

Performed by Opal

Words and Music by Mike Lemense

From ?The Rodent?s Apprentice? and ?A Rock Musical?

Notes

Standard Tuning

Pretty Slow pace during verses, pretty fast pace at refrain and bridge

IMPORTANT NOTE

There are two odd chords introduced in this song, and I?m not sure what they are called (sorry!). But I do what they are after having seen Mike Lemense play it live. The first one is some sort of C-Variation and looks like this: 320100

So basically C moved up a string, or down in note. The other chord is an E variation where you just put pinky down on the A string while playing E, so in the end that chord looks like this: 022130

Got it? So where it says C Variation, play the first chord I tabbed, and where it says E variation play second one. I?m sorry I don?t know the chord names but I?m positive that?s what Mike Lemense plays.

Verse

C#m        A

What is so impossible?

E        C Variation

About a world dream, is it as far as it seems,

C#m        A

And what?s so unbelievable?

E                    C Var.

About a world of heart, must things always fall apart,

E                    E Var.

we need a powerful peacemaker for this thing to start

C#m                A

And what crimes are so illegal?

E                    C Var.

That this child must die, and this mother must cry

C#m                A

And what terrible crimes of evil?

E                    C Var.

Made these men of faith, turn their love to hate,

E                    E Var.

well everyone waits, for them to end the debate

Bridge

C#m                G                E

And everyone has waited for too long,

C#m C E

And everyone has done something wrong,

C#m D7 G C

O you may be like I, you give a silent cry,

C#m G C E

but it won't bring peace, it won't save that person's life

C#m D7 G C

O you may be like me, you give a silent plea,

C#m G C E

but it won't bring peace it won't bring harmony

Refrain

B7 C G D C G

And I've sensed God raise his brow, what's there left to believe in now

B7 G C B C E

How can it still remain unknown, that we are all made of flesh and bone,

D B G

B7 C

G

And why can't these people live together in their home, for everyone one of them stands

Em

alone

Other Verse

What is uncompromising?

About a world of love, you wouldn't care what your made of

What is so surprising?

About where we are now, after how you knocked us down, they say don't come around, if you really care

What is so wonderful and great?

That we smile today, while another's life is taken away

What is it that motivates?

Us to fight these wars, what the hell is it all for, we're given command of destiny and still we want more

That's it, in case you haven't heard the song, you repeat the first verse set after the second one, and is a solo in there somewhere, but I can't tab it, I'm not good with leads and Claude Lerosé is amazing.

that's it, if someone wants to tab out the solo feel free to do so please.
