

A Hundred Years
Operahouse

A HUNDRED YEARS
OPERAHOUSE

tabbed by: mattsem
email: mattsem@gmail.com

Ok, this is the 100 years tab, great tune (<http://youtube.com/watch?v=M32ZSlA4wgI&feature=related>) can only get parts of lead so i thought i d just post the chords. intro is dead easy to out though.

By the way guys, the capital Ms mean major, even though when you hover over them
it
the minor chord that s just UG being stupif or sumthin.

He sort of stabs at these chods all the way through, mainly upstrokes.

Intro
C#M F#M

C#M
100 years and it feels that long,
F#M
She sits in that seat she cries to that song
G#M
She s never felt so lonely
F#M F#minor
On the tip of her tongue....nobody loves me

C#M
And every night at seven or so....
F#M
She books her ticket to her favourite show
G#M
It s more than just filling up her days,
F#M F#minor
It s who she is and the way she s going to stay.

(Guitar 2 plays top 4 strings of these chords (upstrokes))

C#M
The final night comes and she slips on her dress
F#M
Waves down her cab and her driver in his vest
G#M
Say s what a pleasure its been all these years
F#M F#minor

