Verse 1

A E F#m D A
Are you out there where the rainy days begin to feel rather sad
E F#m D A
And the walls are closing in like the darkness around me
E F#m D A
It s so hard to look away when the daylight doesn t ever stay
E F#m D A
Above this dull apartment view - oh, I will surround you
E F#m
It s quite clear that I m stuck here
D A E F#m D A
So I ll devise a plan and cut out a door in my new living room floor
E F#m
The porch light is so bright
D A E F#m D
That I will quickly sneak down the dark metal shape of the rusty fire escape.

BRIDGE

F#m D A
I bought a one-way ticket
E F#m
Cause I knew I d never see the ground
D A E F#m
Unless I was aboard a jet plane and we were going down.
D D
When I wiped the tears from my eyes
E F#m
The warm water took me by surprise
D A E
And I woke up beside the ocean and I realized:
A E
I must be in California.

A, E, F#m, D (x4) [I must be in California]

Verse 2 (A - E - F#m - D)
