         Am
I don t know who let you in
             G6
You re too bold to give a shit

The sound of the ocean makes you smile
                         G6
While the smell of seaweeds on your mind

             Am
You run your hand against my cheek
               G6
you want my fingers on your lips
           Am
So let me take you to the sand
             G6
Before the California sun is gone

             Am
The scripted memories I found

The bit of roses isn t shy but they aren t used to being dry

I watch the way you bite your lips
                    G6
Your lipstick cracks with every kiss
                 Am                            G6
The morning sun is on the hills as I turn my key to let you in

Am                    G6

Am
I don t want you in my life
        G6
I only loved you for one night

A flower blooms before it dies
                 G6         Em                        Am
