Intro:           [G]           [D]           [G]           [D]

There are pl[G]aces I ll rem[Em]ember [G7]   all my l[C]i--i[Cm]fe though s[G]ome have changed, Some for[G]ever not for b[Em]etter,[G7]   some have [C]go--[Cm]one and [G]some remain.
All these pl[Em]aces had their m[C]oments, with l[F]overs and friends I st[G]ill can recall,
Some are d[Em]ead and some are l[A7]iving, in [Cm]my life I ve l[G]oved them all.[D]

But of a[G]ll these friends and l[Em]overs,[G7]   there is [C]no [Cm]one comp[G]ares with you,
And these m[G]emories lose their m[Em]eaning,[G7]   when I th[C]ink of l[Cm]ove as s[G]omething new.
Though I k[Em]now I ll never lose aff[C]ection for p[F]eople and things that w[G]ent before,
I k[Em]now I ll often stop and think ab[A7]out them, in [Cm]my life I ll l[G]ove
you more.[D]
