What a shame,

C Bb
What a shame we all remain such fragile broken things,

a beauty, half the trade,

butterflies with poached wings,

still there are darkened places,

C Bb
deep in my heart.

Where once was blazing light now, thereâ€™s a tiny spark.

oh glory,

C
come and find me,

come and fine me

[CHORUS]

dancing all alone

to the sound of the enemyâ€™s song.

Bb
iâ€™ll be lost until you find me,

Dm F C
fighting on my own in a war thatâ€™s already been won

Bb C Bb Gm C# F
iâ€™ll be lost until you come and find me here, oh glory.

Bb

what a mess,

C Bb
what a mystery weâ€™ve made of love and other simple things

Gm C# F Bb
learning to forgive, even when it was our mistake

C Bb
i question every human who will look in my eyes

Gm C# F

scars left on my heart form patterns in my mind

oh glory

You will find me

[Chorus]

Dm F
dancing all alone

C
to the sound of the enemy's song.

Bb
i'll be lost until you find me,

Dm F C
fighting on my own in a war that's already been won i'll be lost until you come and find me here, oh glory.

Like the moon we borrow our light
