The Great Lakes Song - Performed by Pat Dailey Written by Pat Dailey & Shel Silverstein

G#FmThe Great Lakes are a diamond on the hand of North AmericaC#EbBrightly shining jewel on the friendship borderingG#FmFreshwater highway coming down from CanadaC#EbG#G#All along the shoreline, you can hear them sing chorus: G# Fm Sweet mother Michigan, father Superior C# Eb Coming down from Mackinac and Sault St. Marie G# Fm Blue water Huron, Flow down to Lake Erie-0 C# Eb G# Fall to Ontario and run on out to sea

G#FmHearty are the seamen on the ships that load the iron oreC#EbSailing out of Thunder Bay and bound for BuffaloG#FmHearty are the fishermen just like their fathers were beforeC#EbG#G#Say they 11 bury me at sea come my time to go

(chorus)

 \mathbf{Fm} Oh the tales the sailors spin of mermaids singing in the wind C# $\mathbf{E}\mathbf{b}$ the sinking of the Bessemer, the drowning of the crew G# \mathbf{Fm} Memories of waters crossed of women won and fortunes lost C# G# $\mathbf{E}\mathbf{b}$ Are etched upon their faces and their faded old tatoos

 \mathbf{Fm} C# Down below the quarter decks the old men mend the fishing nets G# Eb Up above the windy bridge the young men curse into the wind Fm C# All along the winds of straits(?) the wives and mothers lie awake G# $\mathbf{E}\mathbf{b}$ Pray on lady of the lake to send them home again
