Patrick Wolf

play along with this wonderful song by the man with the biggest ears i ve seen!

it is pretty simple - 4 chords the whole song!

Dm - F - C - G

Dm F
It s wonderful what a smile can hide
C G
If the teeth shine right and it s nice and wide
Dm F
It s so magical what you can keep inside
C G Dm F
And if you bury it deep no one can find a thing, no.
C G Dm F
So come on now, open wide, open up now.
C G
Don t you think it s time

Dm F
To look back at that boy on his way to school
C G
Such a heavy heart, such a heavy jewel
Dm F
hiding something that one day he ll sell
C G Dm F
But now if no one shows, no one tells a thing, no.
C G Dm F
So come on love, open wide, open up now
C G
Don t you think it s time

Dm F C G
Now after all these years you are at last opening
was it worth all that war just to win
So caught up in the speed of the days in your sin
Don t forget how the story begins no
Don t forget now.

Now I m seeing all your lovers and enemies
They ve been turining their keys so full of need
All trying to see that sure you keep
What makes it shine, what makes it mine

But I don't care.

Just come on now, open wide.

Open up now.

There's so much love for what you'll find.

But what will you find!

Now after all these years you are at last opening

Was it worth all that war just to win.

If it was can you take me back to where it begins

Come and take me back to where it begins

Come and take me back to where it begins

Come on, open wide and let some light in.

Let us in.

Let us in.
