anyone	remember Tony etc.

D/G	C/G	G
Does anyone	remember	Tony?

D/G	C/G	G
He was a quiet boy,	a little overweight,	he had breasts like a girl

D/G	C/G	G
When I wasn't too busy	feeling	lonely

D/G	C/G	G	D/G	C/G	G
I'd stare over his	shoulder at a map of the	world

D/G	C/G	G
He always finished	all his	homework

D/G	C/G	G
Raised his hand	in	homeroom

D/G	C/G	G
For the morning	attendance

-----	-----	---

And to pledge allegiance to the gloom

Em D C G
Hey Tony, what s so good about dying

Em D C G
I think I might do a little dying today

Em D C G
Looked in the mirror saw that little faggot staring back at him

Em D C G
Pulled out a gun and blew himself away

I hated every day of high school
Funny, I guess you did too
Funny how I never knew
There I was sitting right behind you
They wrote it in the local rag
Death comes to the local fag
I guess you finally stopped believing that any hope would ever find you
I knew that story, I was sitting right behind you

Hey Tony, what s so good about dying?
I think I might do a little dying today
He looked in the mirror, saw that little faggot staring back at him
Pulled out a gun, and blew himself away
