

Think Too Much B
Paul Simon

Paul Simon - Think Too Much (b)
Album - Hearts And Bones

[Intro] faded in, repeated several times

A F#m

[Vers 1]

A
The smartest people in the world

F#m
Had gathered in Los Angeles

A
To analyze our love affair

F#m
And possibly unscramble us

A
And we sat among our photographs

F#m
Examined every one

A
And in the end we compromised

F#m
And met the morning sun

[Chorus]

A [F#m]
Maybe I think too much, maybe I think too much, oh, oh

F#m
Maybe I think too much, maybe I think too much, hey, hey

[Vers 2]

A
They say the left side of the brain

F#m
Dominates the right

A
And the right side has to labour through

F#m
The long and speechless night

A

And in the night my father came to me

F#m

And held me to his chest

A

He said
