

Dont Say A Word
Phantom Limb

Am                    C                                    F                    C
Don t say a word    cause I ve already heard
Am                    C                                    F                    C
Seems so good but don t feel like it should
Am                    C                                    F                    C
So don t say a word cause I ve already heard
Am                    C                                    F                    C
Your sweetness and charms without loving arms

F                    Am                    G                    F
You are a soldier swimming upstream
F                    Am                    G                    F
You are the sholder on which I should lean
F                    Am                    G                    F
From what I can remember you always looked keen
F                    Am                    G                    F
With a shimmer of lust falling like summer rain

Chorus

F                    Am                    G                    F
You are the proud one looking at me
F                    Am                    G                    F
Soft in the eyes and a rose in your cheek
F                    Am                    G                    F
From what I can remember you were never there
F                    Am                    G                    F
Just a haze and a memory and a distant prayer
