Lonely Day
Phantom Planet

A        D           A            D
I could tell from the minute I woke up
                       A          D
It was going to be a lonely lonely lonely lonely
A       D
day.
A        D           A            D
Rise and shine rub the sleep out of my eyes
           A          D            A   D
And try to tell myself I can t go back to bed
                  Bm         E        A      D
It s gonna be a lonely lonely lonely lonely day.
A       D

A       D             A            D
Even though the sun is shining down on me and I
        A         D          A   D
should feel about as happy as can be
A          D          A          D
I just got here and I already want to leave
              A          D          A   D
It s gonna be a lonely lonely lonely lonely day
              Bm         E          A
It s gonna be a lonely lonely lonely lonely day
              Bm         E          A
It s gonna be a lonely lonely lonely lonely day

        F#m                    B7
Everybody knows that something s wrong
          F#m                  B7
But nobody knows what s going on
        D                A
We all sing the same old song
          E7
When you want it all to go away
                            A     D A D A D A D
It s shaping up to be a lonely day

A        D           A            D
