It s written in the book

It s hotter than I ve known before, but I feel so cold, and I don t know why
But if the fire within your heart can beat the storm
Then I really believe, you could make it right

Ooh the time has come now
We must show our feelings
But I m looking right through you
And your heart is empty
Whatever happened to you it s too late to change now
There s nowhere you can run to, no place to hide
Please, oh please you let me down!

Just waiting to see you, can you see me?
Tell me can you see me?
