

Broken Promises
Philip Selway

A nice little song about Family. Its in drop D, but you can play it in standard.

All chords shapes are for drop d:

DADGBe
D 000232 or D5 000235
G 55540x
G/F# 45520x
Em 222000
A x02220
Bm x24432

Where a chord is in brackets, it is implied by a couple of open strings, usually B and G. It can be missed, but it makes it a bit more interesting.

Verse:

D G G/F# Em A
In time I ll return once more

D G G/F# Em A (G)
To find the house where I was born

Chorus:

Bm A Bm G A D
There you took a photograph of me and my sisters back then

Bm A Bm
To celebrate the lives that you made

G A Bm
You held us and hoped that you d find

G A D
Peace for the very first time

Verse (as before)

D G G/F# Em A
One day I ll begin again

D G G/F# Em A (G)
And you ll start a chance to make a mends

Chorus (as before)

For all the broken promises
And dreams that i never fulfilled
I celebrate the lives that you made
Look on my face and you ll find
Peace for the very first time

Bridge:

D
Once the hurt has faded
Once the hurt has faded
Once the hurt has faded
A G D
Only the love will remain

Chorus (as before)

All the broken promises
And dreams that are never fulfilled
Lets celebrate the lives that you made
Go to a place where you ll find
Peace for the very first time
