I know You love the song but not the singer
I know You've got me wrapped around your finger
I know You want the sin without the sinner
I know, I know

I know The past will catch you up as you run faster
I know The last in line is always called a bastard
I know The past will catch you up as you run faster
I know, I know

I know You cut me loose in contradiction
I know I'm all wrapped up in sweet attrition
I know It's asking for your benediction
I know, I know

I know The past will catch you up as you run faster
I know The last in line is always called a bastard
I know The past will catch you up as you run faster
I know, I know

I know The past will catch you up as you run faster
I know The last in line is always called a bastard
I know The past will catch you up as you run faster
I know, I know
