F, D, A, F, D, A

On a box of photographs under the bed

I will stay in my own world

Under the covers

I will feel safe inside

A kiss that will burn me

Cure me of dreaming

I was always returning

And my ashes find a way beyond the fog

And return to save the child that I forgot

And my ashes fade among the things unseen

And the dream plays in reverse on piano-keys

And my ashes drown upon a ()

Never ending clouds of rain and distant sails

And distant sails
