{verse}
 Em
                                         Bm
                                               Am
How beautiful do the words have to be D
before they conquer every heart?
                                          Bm
                                               Am
How will U know if I m even in the right key if U make me stop before I start? {come in loud here!}
{chorus}
G
                                     F
If I came back as a dolphin would U listen to me then?
                                   Bm
Would you let me be your friend? Would you let me in?
You could cut off all my fins, but to your ways
I will not Bend.
I ll die before I let you show me how to swim.
And I ll come back again,
                                as a
   F
             F# G repeat....
Dolphin {bridge}
If I m at the water s edge will you find me?
                           C#dim7
Will you shine a light to guide me?
                           D#dim7
It s happened before, I ve knocked on your door,
But you wouldn t let me in.....
