| [Verse 2] |
| So she drinks a cup of coffee Dm And telephones a friend |
| C And she asks if she can make it |
| Dm |
| So this night never ends Eb Dm |
| And someone should have helped her through the day Eb Dm |
| Someone like the moon |
| [Chorus] Bb Dm |
| But the light comes and the day bleeds through the sky Eb Dm |
| And the sun, the sun made it hard to get through Bb Dm |
| And the radio only played love songs, so she cried Eb Dm |

```
Oh, she knew it s such a bad thing to do
[Verse 3]
In the evening it gets better,
And she thinks how it s not right,
That someone so stupid,
Can so easily screw up your life.
                    Dm
Someone should have helped her through the day.
Someone like the moon.
[Chorus]
        Bb
                            Dm
But the light comes and the day bleeds through the sky
And the sun, the sun made it hard to get through
                          Dm
And the radio only played love songs, so she cried
Oh, she knew it s such a bad thing to do
Can t you see? Can t you see?
                    Dm
Someone should have told her you had gone
Oh Someone like the moon.
Can t you see? Can t you see?
                    Dm
Someone should have told her you had gone
                    Dm
Oh Someone like the moon.
