

We are just a paper floatin by
Where no one try to learn to fly
And the wind blows stronger for every day
And I m afraid it will blow us all away
We are just a paper in a stronger wind

With a stronger will, with a crave for pills
We should ve known how to change the world

All these driftin people
Holding on til they all are gone
All these driftin people
Searchin for a place to go
A place to call home
