NC                                   F#               Ebm
You re my always and forever.
                                 C#                                   F#
You re the one that hung the moon.
                 B                                   F#               G#m
After all these nights together
   C#               F#
I still get lost in your perfume.
                 B                                   F#               Ebm
And if I could write a love song,
                 C#7                                   F#
every line would tell the truth.
                 B                                   F#               C#
It would be a warm and soft one
   F#
and my heart would say to you

          B   C#                                   F#
When you see me walk on water,
                  C#   F#
when the sea don t reach the shore
                  B   F#
when the fires of hell freeze over,
B                   F#                   C#   F#
I won t need you anymore

                  B                                   F#               Ebm
Oh, the feelings lay so easy,
                  C#7   F#
lyin here the way we are.

B                    F#                    C#
No one else could ever hold me
   F#
like the heavens hold the stars.

B    C#                                    F#
When you see me walk on water,
   C#                                    F#
when the sea don't reach the shore
   B                                    F#
when the fires of hell freeze over,
B                    F#                    C#    F#
I won't need you anymore
      B                    F#                    C#    F#
I won't need you anymore
