Sometimes
Rebecca Lavelle

G#-C# 4x

G#   C#
Sometimes at the edge of sight
G#   C#
Something moves which isn t there
G#   C#
You turn to look but its gone, it s gone
G#   C#
Was it ever really there
                        G#
Yet it touches you
                        Eb
Softly touches you
C#   Eb
And then begins again

                  G#   C#
That scent of roses
                G#   C#
The sound of sea
                    G#
A breath of wind on your face

                  G#
They take you back
                      Eb
They take you there
          C#
To that place long ago
                      G#
And you want so much
                Eb
To hear those words
                    C#
To feel that touch

                  G#   C#
But you can t go back
                    G#   C#
No you can t go back

  G#   C#

Living in the moment
G#   C#
Is dangerous and blind
G#   C#
But if you look back, too many times
G#   C#
The shapes distort, and unwind

          G#
But they touched you
            Eb
Softly touched you
C#
And then it begins again

              G#   C#
That scent of roses
                  G#   C#
The sound of the sea
              G#
A breath of wind on your face

                  G#
They take you back
                Eb
They take you there
          C#
To that place long ago
                  G#
And you want so much
                Eb
To hear those words
                C#
To feel that touch

                  G#   C#
But you can t go back
                  G#   C#
No you can t go back

G#-C#

G#   C#
Somtimes ...
