

Pensive Doubting Fearful Heart
Red Mountain Church

Pensive, Doubting, Fearful Heart
Taken from the Gadsby Hymnal # 273
Words - John Newton (1725-1807), 1779
Music - Wendell Kimbrough, 2004
Intro:
G, A, D

G            A            D
Pensive, doubting, fearful heart,
Bm                            G            A
Hear what Christ the Savior says;
G            A            D
Every word should joy impart,
Bm                            G            A
Change thy mourning into praise.
G            A            D
Yes, He speaks and speaks to thee,
G            A    Bm
May He help thee to believe;
A            A/Bb        Bm
Then thou presently will see
G            A            D
Thou has little cause to grieve.

Interlude: G (4) A(2) D(2)
G            A            D
Fear thou not, nor be ashamed;
Bm                            G            A
All thy sorrows soon shall end,
G            A            D
I, who heaven and earth have framed,
Bm                            G            A
Am thy Husband and thy Friend;
G            A            D
I the High and Holy One,
G    A    Bm
Israel s God, by all adored,
A            A/Bb    Bm
As thy Savior will be known,
G            A            D
Thy Redeemer and thy Lord.

Interlude

G            A            D
For a moment I withdrew,
Bm                            G            A

And thy heart was filled with pain;

G A D

But my mercies I ll renew;

Bm G A

Thou shall soon rejoice again;

G A D

Though I seem to hide my face,

G A Bm

Very soon my wrath shall cease;

A A/Bb Bm

Tis but for a moment s space,

G A D

Ending in eternal peace.

Interlude

G A D

Though afflicted, tempest tossed,

Bm G A

Comfortless awhile thou art,

G A D

Do not think thou can be lost,

G A Bm

Thou art graven on my heart;

G A D

All thy wastes I will repair;

G A D

Thou shalt be rebuilt anew;

A A/Bb Bm

And in thee it shall appear

G A D

What the God of love can do.

It only had the first verse tabbed so i had to fill in the rest, and it took about an hour.

To UG people,

I found this on a public website that was NOT the band s official site, and it was free, so I figure they don t care whether or not I post the chords.
