Every Second Counts
Redlight King

[Intro]
D   G   (x2)

[Verse 1]
```
            D                 G
```
Don t move away from me
```
              D                 G
```
Every second counts
```
         D                          G
```
If the fire in your eyes starts fading
```
            D         G
```
I ll be around

[Chorus]
```
          Bm                        A
```
I ll be holding your hand if you run
```
        G                           E
```
I ll be howling at the moon when it rains
```
                Bm                  A
```
If you should ever forget who you are
```
                  G
```
I ll call your name

[Verse 2]
```
              D                 G
```
Don t move away from me
```
                D                 G
```
Every second counts
```
           D                          G
```
When the way to the world starts changing
```
             D         G
```
I ll be around

[Chorus]
```
            Bm                          A
```
You re the only one I keep holding onto
```
           G                          E
```
You re the only one that s keeps me awake
```
          Bm                      A
```
I would die before I let someone hurt you
```
          G                         E
```
I would run an any risk I can take

[Bridge]
```
              D             G
```
Don t move away from me
```
                D                 G
```

```
Every second counts
            D                       G
Don t move awaaaaaaay frooooom me
              D                 G
Every second counts

[Chorus]
          Bm                            A
You re the only one that I keep my heart to
            G                         E
You re the only one that keeping it safe
              Bm                    A
Yeah, You re the only one that I belong to
                G             E
I ll call your name

[Ending]
            D           G
Every second counts
            D           G
Every second counts
            D           G
Every second counts
            D           G         D
Every second counts
```
