Reminding you your love for me is more than six feet deep
You say aloud that you would have been my wife
Write about that time is when I come back to life
And let you know
I'd let you know all along I was...
All along I was faking my own suicide
Because I know you love me
You just haven't realized

I was faking my own suicide
I'll walk in that room and see your eyes opened so wide
Opened so wide
Because you know
