Renaissance - Back Home Once Again

Introduction: D G A G repeat

D
Come along with me
G
the day can breathe once more,
D G
to hear the sound of closing doors.
F G D
The night has opened up its eyes to see day
Dmaj7 Em7
A thousand moving just as one
G/A
A feeling that s so certain,
Dmaj7 Em7
that when this day is done,
G/A A7
the paper lads will...

D G
Come with the dawn casting light on the play,
A G
Acting it out in our own special way
D G
Making our entrance and reading the lines,
A G D G
The story of people who live by the Tyne.

A G D G A G

D
Back home once again,
G D
The streets that seemed so long
G
They re waking now. Your job is done.
F G D
See people run to catch the wheels of their lives
Dmaj7 Emaj7
The city s reading every line
G/A Dmaj7
But while it sleeps you re working Em7

in a world that s just your own,

G/A A7

For paper lads

D

G

Alone in the dawn going round every day,

A

G

Seeing your home turn in different ways

D

G

Carry the news, solving problems you find

A

G

D

G

though young, who knows what goes on in your mind.
