Verse 1

D

Like in the hall of mirrors,

Dmaj7

You look different today

G

He saw you coming out of Etam

Bb

and it struck him how you d changed

D

Was it that you look slimmer?

Dmaj7

Or had you dyed your hair?

G

As you were feigning your indifference

Bb

Making out like you didn t care

Refrain

D

He never contemplated bumping into you

Dmaj7

How s your mother now? What you been up to?

D

Just to see you sets him off

Dmaj7

G A

A chance encounter with someones he loved so dearly

Verse 2 D

Although it left him bitter

Dmaj7

He still fancies you

G

Although he s been around a bit since

Bb

Nobody does it like you do

D

He tells you, you look fitter

Dmaj7

Than when he saw you last

G

Theres still something there between you

Bb

Despite the months thats past

Refrain

D

He never contemplated bumping into you

Dmaj7

How s your mother now? What you been up to?

D

Just to see you sets him off

Dmaj7

G A

A chance encounter with someone he loved so dearly

G

And You didn t take no cajoling, and then your are

A

Rolling around on his livingroom floor

G

Once hes been in your knickers

A

The rows and the bickers they didn t matter so much anymore

D

And I ve often heard it said

Dmaj7

that You can t be friends once you ve been to bed

D

And just to see you sets me off

Dmaj7

G A

A chance encounter with some one I loved so dearly

D

A free Ride on a guilt trip
