My Slumbering Heart Rilo Kiley

Pretty much the same as the earlier one, but in an easier to read format, plus lyrics.

D

In my dreams

A

I see myself hitting a baseball

Bm

In a green field somewhere near a freeway

I m all tan and smiling and running from 3rd base

D

And it s hot and

Α

The kids keep on playing the driving game

Bm

And they re singing the same goddamn refrain

D A

And the sky is a blueish grey.

D A Bm

And its become just like a chemical stress

D Br

Tracing the lines in my face for

D Bi

Something more beautiful than is there

Α

I ve barely been gone.

D

In my dreams

Α

I see you at the foot of some mountains.

Bn

And we re taking some pictures or something

D A

And we d better hurry up

D

And it s late and

А

The sun keeps on shooting through pine trees

Bm

And the grass stains are wet on your new jeans

D

And its become just like a terrible mess D Tracing the lines in my face for Something more beautiful than is there The crowds keep me coming back, cheering. D A Bm D A In my dreams I see you asleep on a twin bed The covers pulled up over your head Am I asleep or awake? And it s morning And the captain is playing the radio And hes just put the paint on his new boat Am I asleep or awake? And it just feels good when you re waking up And it just feels good when you re next to me And it just feels good when you re coming home And it just feels good when it s waking up BmAnd I ve become just like a chemical stress Tracing the lines of my face for Something more beautiful than is there I ve barely been gone and I m not a failure I swear I wish you could see it from over there I ve got a lot over here without you

Α

I ve barely been gone

 $\mathbf{Bm}$

gone
