F
Sometimes I wonder where I d be

If all my friends abandoned me

On a vessel out to sea,
                            Bb
Took every lifeboat and they ran
It s funny how we d switch our roles

With empty cabins, empty hulls

And all the food filled up with mold,
                          Bb
I d stand on deck without a hand
Feeling so much bigger than I am

Bb
And so I dim the lights, and I crack a beer

I think to myself about things
I d said I d do this year
Growing old never takes it s toll until you re losing
                                          F
Track of all things you won t ever have back again

(Same chords as first verse)
Five minutes pass and I get scared
I take the ladder, than the stairs
Trying hard to get some air
Inside these lungs that I neglect
I grip the wheel and try to turn
I never looked, I never learned
Just playing captain to my kind,

To think it never crossed my mind

Bb   F
Please forgive me, I want to go home
C   Bb   F
Wake me up now, I m so tired of being lonely
Bb   F
Strips of moonlight in the clouds are breaking through
C   Bb   F
I ll be dreaming, baby I ll be dreaming of you

(Same chords as verse 1)
After a night without a mate
I hung my head and loved my fate
Counted the hairs upon my face,
I never thought I d have the time
But when the day came to an end
I missed my family and my friends
All driven out by my control
If everyone knew what they told
I wouldn’t be so bold, I wouldn’t act so old
Hey, honey, I wouldn’t stay so cold

(Same chords as Chorus)
And so I dim the lights, and I crack a beer
I think to myself about things
I d said I d do this year
Growing old never takes it s toll until you re losing
Track of all things you won t ever have back again
And there’s so many of them

Interlude – Dm   Bb   F   C

 Dm   Bb
Then one morning I awoke
F   C
Inside a clearing in the smoke
 Dm   Bb   C
My fist like quarters, scratching wax off of my eyes
 Dm   Bb
I hit the door then I hit the roof
   F   C
I bit my tongue, I broke a tooth
    Dm   Bm   C
I saw a landing to the left of the sunrise

                                Bb   F
And I cried: please forgive me, I want to go home
C   Bb   F
Wake me up now, I’m so tired of being lonely
Bb   F

Strips of moonlight in the clouds are breaking through
C   Bb
I'll be dreaming, baby I'll dreaming
C   Bb
I'll be dreaming, baby I'll dreaming
C   Bb   F
I'll be dreaming, baby I'll be dreaming of you
