

Jennifer Johnson And Me
Robert Earl Keen

Jennifer Johnson & Me
By F. Koller and S. Silverstein

From The Robert Earl Keen Jr. West Textures CD
Submitted By David Byboth
davidb@efficient.com

[tab]	C		F		C
Deep in the pocket, of an old sport coat jacket[/tab]
[tab]	C		G
I chanced to discover an old memory[/tab]
[tab]	F		C
Three for a quarter, a black and white portrait[/tab]
[tab]	C		G		C
Taken of Jennifer Johnson and me[/tab]

I m in the corner, my shirt collar open
Like some Latin lover, on late night TV
Smiling right there with her head on my shoulder
It s Jennifer Johnson, and she s lookin at me

It must have been summer, Ninteen Sixty Seven
The Beatles were singing "Love Is All You Need"
I held her hand as we walked through the arcade
Two young believers on a three dollar spree

CHORUS :

```
[tab]F                                C
Three for a quarter a black and white portrait[/tab]
[tab]                                G
Jen, close the curtain so no one can see[/tab]
[tab]F                                C
Hey kiss me quick,  cause the red light is flashing[/tab]
[tab]      C                                G
It s flashing on Jennifer Johnson and Me[/tab]
```

Waiting on that late night train back to home
I felt her warm, in the cool evening breeze
Told her I d probably love her forever
Forever for Jennifer Johnson and Me

CHORUS :

Three for a quarter a black and white portrait
Jen, close the curtain so no one can see
Hey kiss me quick, cause the red light is flashing
It s flashing on Jennifer Johnson and Me

