(Little tribute to Maurice Gibb)

A D
The man who stands alone
A D
The jewel that's set in stone
F#m-D E
He was there with every girl I fell for,
A D
The world he made his own
A D
A power upon the throne
F#m-D E
And I swear he made the summer longer
C#m F#m
And with Lennon and Bolan gone
Bm E
And the music their memoriam
C#m F#m
And the past is part of all our lives
Bm E
And my brother Maurice is staying alive

A G D
And I remember, all my life,
A G D
Yes, I remember the distant light,
A G D
Yes, I remember burning bright
G D A D E A
Alan Freeman Days, Alan Freeman Days
G D A G D
Oh yeah

The magic would emerge

On Radio Luxembourg

In his words; give me what I hunger

And we all forgot so soon

When they landed a man upon the moon

But I won't forget the pain inside

The day that Alan Freeman died

But I remember, all my life,

Yes, I remember the distant light,

Yes, I remember burning bright

Alan Freeman Days

Oh Yeah

D Over the years I hear you call A

E In a world that's full of change D

You are the flame that keeps on burning strong A-G D G

A D So strong

G A E Alan Freeman Days

But I remember, all my life,

Yes, I remember the distant light,

Yes, I remember burning bright

Alan Freeman Days, Alan Freeman Days,
