

You Wear it Well

Rod Stewart

[E]I had [A]nothing to do on this hot afternoon but to [B]settle down and write you a [E]line I been [A]meaning to phone ya, but from Minnesota [B]Hell, it s been a very long [E]time
You wear it [A]well
B [F#m]little old [E/F#]fashioned but [A]that s all [B]right [E]I sup[A]pose you re thinking Aunt Betty s sinking oh he [B]wouldn t get in touch with [E]me
For [A]I ain t begging or losing my head
I [B]sure do want you to [E]know That you wear it [A]well [F#m]There ain t a [E/F#]lady in a [A]land so [B]fine oh my [E]Remember those
[A]basement parties, your brothers karate [B]All day rock and roll [E]shows the [A]homesick blues and the radical views [B]haven t left a mark on [E]you
You wear it [A]well
B [F#m]little late on the [E/F#]time but [A]I don t [B]mind
But I ain t for[A]getting that you were once [B]mine but I [A]blew it without even [B]trying Now I m [A]eating my heart out [B]trying to get a letter [E]through [F#m]Since you ve been [E/F#]gone it s hard to [A]carry on [B]
I want to [E]write about the [A]birthday gown that I bought in town as [B]you sat down and cried on the [E]stairs You knew it didn t
[A]cost the earth, but for what it s worth you made me [B]feel like a million[E]aire and you wear it [A]well [F#m]Madame O[E/F#]nassis got [A]nothing on [B]you [E]Well my [A] coffee s cold, and I m gettin told that I [B]gotta get back to [E]work So when the [A]sun goes low and you re home alone [B] think of me and try not to [E]laugh and I wear it [A]well [F#m]I don t [E/F#]mind if you [A]call col[B]lect
But I [E]ain t for[A]getting that you were once [B]mine
but I [A]blew it without even [B]trying
Now I m [A]eating my heart out
[B]trying to get back to [E]you [F#m]Since that s been [E/F#]said, what s [A]left to ad[B]dress?

The little man knows all ...
